

Revelation
Satan's finale
October 11, 2020

Satan bound and saints ruling

An angel comes from heaven in possession of the key to the pit and carrying a _____ for the purpose of putting Satan out of commission for a time.

The right of _____ 'was committed to them', which suggests that they participated with Christ in the judicial rule of the nations during the Millennium.

The term beheaded was often used in John's day as an overall term for any who were _____

The completion of the promise to the serpent

When the thousand years have expired, Satan will be released from his _____.

Magog was the grandson of _____ who was the founder of a kingdom north of the Black and Caspian seas.

The _____ is thrown into the lake of fire to accompany the rest of the false trinity who is already there.

The completion of the promise to humanity

The great white throne is occupied by _____ who is said to be seated with God on his throne.

John next sees the _____, who were earlier referred to as "the rest of the dead", who had not experienced the first resurrection.

There is a noted differentiation between the books from which the dead were _____, and the Lamb's Book of Life, which contained none of their names.

"The last enemy that will be destroyed is _____" (1 Cor. 15:26).

Scripture read: Revelation 20:1-6, 20:7-10, 20:11-15

Scripture referenced: Matt. 19:28, Rev. 2:26-27, 5:10, Gen. 10:2, 3:15, 2 Peter 3:10, 12, Luke 10:20, 1 Cor. 15:26

HOMEWORK

1. How important is it that Satan is 'bound' for 1,000 years? What does that mean about his power?
2. God finally fulfills His promise to Satan that He made in Genesis. What does this tell you about God and His promises to you?
3. The Great White Throne judgment shows that God is committed to justice. How does that impact your life now?
4. Death and Hades are finally destroyed. Why is that important?